We are continuing our product updating programme with the new, modern designs which we began with TOPRO Pegasus in the autumn of 2019. We are enthusiastically introducing many updated practical features that our customers have requested.

TOPRO has, for more than 30 years, worked with the development, production, and sale of quality mobility aids. We are proud of the products we make, and we are happy to see the benefits these products provide for our customers.

Through a continuous focus on improvements for the benefit of our customers and the environment, we have also placed significant emphasis on sustainability in our production process. Our factory in Norway uses hydropower and environmentally friendly aluminium to minimize the carbon footprint. Our injection moulding plant uses clean materials that are recyclable to contribute to the circular economy. We have also implemented a "zero waste" principle to ensure no plastic contaminates the natural environment for the benefit of future generations.

We hope that our products contribute to stable, safe walking and that they motivate everyone to „Keep on moving“.
